LAW FIRM FOULSTON SIEFKIN LLP RELOCATES TO LIGHTON TOWER THIS SUMMER

April 12, 2022

OVERLAND PARK, KAN. – Foulston Siefkin LLP will relocate its Overland Park office to the 14th floor of Lighton Tower, near College and Metcalf in June, 2022.

“Overland Park is a dynamic community and a great place for us,” said Tony Rupp, the partner-in-charge. “We represent businesses, health care providers and governmental entities in the Kansas City area and this great location is a fit for us.”

The floor’s efficient configuration allows Foulston to reduce its footprint by about 5,000 square feet from its current location in Corporate Woods, while offering great amenities as the firm plans for continued growth.

Foulston’s team of 20 lawyers and 12 staff will move into approximately 15,000 square feet on Lighton Tower’s top floor. The space is efficiently configured to accommodate future growth. Building amenities include abundant natural light, great views, gardens, and an outdoor patio. Lighton Tower, built in 1991, is a LEED Gold certified building, recognizing its sustainability and efficiency.

Foulston, the largest Kansas-based law firm, has offices in Overland Park, Wichita, and Topeka. It was founded in Wichita in 1919 and first opened a Kansas City-area office in 2002. The firm’s Kansas-City-based lawyers practice primarily in the areas of business transactions, litigation, employment and labor, healthcare, real estate, and estate planning.

Rupp, who also serves as the Chair of the Overland Park Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors, said that the firm is proud to be in heart of Johnson County and the dynamic businesses located there.
