MISSOURI GOVERNOR AND LEGISLATURE REPEAL EARNED PAID SICK TIME LAW

July 23, 2025

By: Tara Eberline

Governor Kehoe signed HB 567, legislation repealing Missouri's earned paid sick time law. The short-lived paid sick time law became effective May 1, after Missouri voters approved Proposition A in the November 2024 election, and it will officially end on Aug. 28, 2025. In addition to repealing paid sick leave for employees, HB 567 removes the automatic annual adjustment to Missouri's minimum wage rate. The state's minimum wage will increase by $1.25 per hour to $15 per hour on Jan. 1, 2026, but future increases will occur only if the federal minimum wage increases or through additional legislation.

Until HB 567 takes effect at the end of August, Missouri employees remain entitled to accrue paid sick leave at the rate of one hour for every thirty hours worked. Employers who implemented paid sick leave policies to comply with Prop A may choose to retain their policies and continue providing paid leave benefits to all Missouri employees. Alternatively, employers may choose to roll back any paid sick leave policies that were implemented to comply with the earned paid sick time law after August 28. Employers should consult with legal counsel to ensure that any policy changes comply with applicable law.
