RELEVANT EXPERIENCE

Mr. Matthews has had extensive experience in the acquisition, licensing, and protection of intellectual property assets, including trademarks, copyrights, trade secrets, and patents. As principal technology counsel for several large clients, he has prepared, reviewed, and negotiated hundreds of software licenses, software development, and technology sales agreements for both for licensors/sellers and licensees/buyers. With recent changes in federal privacy laws, Mr. Matthews has expanded his IP practice to include advising clients concerning the vast regulatory schemes impacting the acquisition, dissemination, and use of customer information, including the Gramm-Leach-Bliley Act, the Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act of 1996 (HIPAA), Federal Fair Credit Reporting Act, and others.

FOULSTON

ATTORNEYS AT LAW

Mr. Matthews has prepared and prosecuted numerous trademark and service mark applications before the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office. He has handled responses to examining attorney actions and opposition proceedings, and post-registration filings. His experience with intellectual property ownership and licensing issues includes deal preparation, due diligence, and negotiation of mergers and acquisitions with significant intellectual property components. As part of his comprehensive administration of IP matters, Mr. Matthews has aided in the preparation of franchise disclosure documents and litigation of master brand licensing disputes.
